Languages

We use Google's translation API to convert all non-English reviews to English, prior to putting them through our sophisticated data enrichment pipeline allowing all reviews regardless of their original language to be analyzed together. It's possible to translate any reviews back into the original language within the dashboard when viewing verbatim reviews.

Please refer to Google's help center for a full list of all supported languages.